

Star of the week

Sharing is part of daily meeting routine. It is a structure in which the students present news they wish to share and respond to each other by asking questions and offering comments. Sharing helps develop the skills of caring communication and involvement with one another. It extends the knowing and being known that is essential for the development of community and for individuals' sense of significance.

Sharing helps children learn about each others' interests and lives outside the school. Sharing in kindergarten is a not just show and tell. It is learning about someone else.

I have set up a schedule. Please see the star calendar for your child's star week. We invite you to help also!

Please send on the first day of your child's star week:

- Photos of your child, family, home or pets (no more than 10). We will put them on a poster that will be made in school.
- Things your child wants to show. These items can stay all week or be changed each day. Children usually bring in toys, trophies and ribbons from sports, books and other things that are important to them.
- Please fill out the following information and send it back to school:

My birthday is _____

Something I like to do _____

When I grow up I want to be _____

I am proud of myself for _____

We would also like to have a parent or grandparent come in to read a story, share a short video of your child, talk about what makes your child special, or do a craft (you supply these things). I need to know what your plans are the Friday (at the latest) before your child's stardom week. Thanks for your help!
